TEN CENTS A WEEK

THE LABOR LEADERS UPHOLD GOMPERS

Appeal to Supreme Court in Both Cases---De- nounce Use of Injunction.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 10.—If President Samuel Gompers, Vice-President Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, eventually have to serve sentences for contempt of court, it will not be due to lack of support for trade unionism. The executive committee of the federation recommended to the annual convention yesterday that an appeal be taken to the United States Supreme Court, both in the Buck's Stove and Range Company's injunction case, and in the contempt proceedings growing out of it. That the convention will ratify the recommendation seems certain, and that the three labor leaders and their fellow officers will be re-elected another year is predicted.

A vigorous denunciation of the use of labor injunctions and of the denial of trial by jury was embodied in the report yesterday. This report said:

"We recommend that an appeal be taken from the decision rendered in the original injunction, as well as in the contempt case growing out of it. We cannot permit these decisions to go unchallenged. They affect fundamental rights, and either the courts or Congress must safeguard them."

Protest Against Injunction.

"We again enter our protest against the application of the writ of injunction in labor disputes (unless where the injunction would lie if there were no labor disputes) we hold that the arbitrary use of the injunction writ in such cases is an unwarranted interference with the rights and liberties of the workers and is intended, and it is used, to intimidate workers, especially when they are engaged in a struggle for improved working conditions. It is a fact, however, that such injunctions are issued."

"It should be borne in mind that in these proceedings Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison did not have the constitutional right of trial by jury. All the circumstances in this case go to prove that conviction would have followed if the case had been submitted on its merits to a jury of their peers."

"Whatever difference of opinion may exist among men as to any controversy between labor and capital, no good citizen of our country who treasures freedom can rest secure until trial by jury becomes so well recognized and so firmly established in our jurisprudence that no man will ever again attempt to deny this essential and historic right. No class has suffered so much from the tyranny of autocratic power as the working people; none struggled more heroically than they to secure the blessings of true liberty, free government, free speech, free press and trial by jury, and it now devolves upon the wage earners to protect, defend and maintain inviolate this priceless principle of equity and justice."

To Recommend Judges.

The council also recommended that organized labor take action looking toward the naming of suitable persons to fill vacancies that may occur in the supreme court of the United States, and in the lesser Federal courts.

On the subject of old age pensions, the council reported a bill providing for the organization of the "old age home guard" to be composed of persons more than 65 years of age who do not own property worth more than $1,500, or whose income does not exceed $240 per year. If this bill is passed by Congress these persons may make application to the Secretary of War for "pension enlistment," and shall receive from the Government $120 per year in quarterly installments.

The report declares that further restrictions are necessary to the immigration of certain classes of foreigners to America.

It recommends that every effort be made to assist in the work of conservation of natural resources.

MARION HORSE RACES.

Great Work Being Done on the Track and Grounds.

The race track in the Marion County Fair Grounds is being worked and improved on each day, with the result that it is now the best half-mile track to be found in the State. Even under the past circumstances it was agreed by all turfmen visiting that place that it was the fastest track to be found in the State, and with the additional work that has been

PRESIDENT SPENT DAY IN RICHMOND

APPEARS HAPPY AS HIS TRIP NEARS ITS CLOSE.

Is Met by Governor Swanson—Makes Address to Virginia State Press Association.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 10.—President Taft was greeted with a hearty welcome here this morning, the inhabitants turning out in full force.

The President and his party arrived at 7 o'clock, after a comfortable journey from Wilmington. He appeared happy, emerging from the Mayflower at 8 o'clock for the final day's entertainment of thirteen-thousand-mile tour.

Governor Swanson and Mayor Richardson headed the reception committee meeting the nation's chief. The party rode in automobiles to the executive mansion for breakfast. The day's ceremonies began with the President's address at 10 o'clock to the Virginia State Press Association. Later he addressed a delegation of colored men.

Governor Kitchin of North Carolina is here as the guest of President Taft, having made the trip from Wilmington in the President's private car.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer met the President here and participated in the festivities.

SOUTHERN ORDERS NEW EQUIPMENT

SOUTHERN RAILWAY FORCED TO INCREASE ITS FACILITIES.

Within Next Three Weeks 125 New Coaches and Dining Cars Will Be Put at Work.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—Before the expiration of three more weeks 125 new coaches and dining cars, equipped to the minutest detail with the latest conveniences and improvements, will have been put into service by the Southern Railway Company.

For the past two or three weeks the Pullman company has been turning over new coaches to the Southern and as fast as they have been completed they have been installed in service.

The new coaches have the largest seating capacity of any cars built by the Pullman company and are lighted by automatic electric batteries attached to the axle. The cars are supplied with three trucks, making twelve wheels to a car and facilitating safety and speed.

The year 1910 promises to be a banner year with the Southern in construction. It is understood that they have many more new cars in contemplation, including all-steel coaches to run through the new tunnel at New York City.

placed thereon it is an assured fact that its equal cannot be found.

Information already received by the fair managers state that the racing feature at the great show will be the best that has ever been seen in the State, and already letters and inquiries are pouring in from parties who will have horses there to contest for the large prizes.

Some of the finest and best horses that usually visit Tampa and Jacksonville will be on hand during the fair.

This feature should attract thousands to Ocala that it would not otherwise have, for it will certainly be the largest thing of its kind ever held in this section of Florida, and probably in the entire State.

ORAL BETTING HELD NOT TO BE A CRIME

System In Vogue for Some Time at New York Race Tracks is Upheld.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Betting is a crime only when accompanied by a record, registry or the use of some part of the paraphernalia of professional gamblers, according to a decision handed down yesterday by the court of appeals. In effect the decision holds that oral betting does not constitute bookmaking in violation of the so-called anti-race track gambling laws recommended by Governor Hughes. The court affirms the order of the lower courts for the discharge from custody of Orlando Jones and Sol Lichtenstein who were indicted in Kings county on a charge of bookmaking.

Jones and Lichtenstein were charged with orally laying and publishing odds on horse races and accepting a bet on the basis of such odds.

Assistant District Attorney Elder of Kings county contended that bookmaking was a gambling scheme within meaning of the statute, and that while memoranda might be an aid to the person conducting the business, yet it had no essential part in the transaction.

Counsel for Jones and Lichtenstein contended that the only effort of the law was to provide a uniform penalty for the recording and registry of bets wherever made, and that the making of an ordinary bet between individuals did not constitute a crime.

Five of the justices, including Chief Justice Cullen, agreed in the opinion rendered yesterday and one dissented. The prevailing decision says in part:

"There has always been observed a distinction between betting and gambling, or the maintaining of a house or place to which people could resort to gamble. The same distinction obtains in this State where oral betting has never been a crime, while the keeping of a gambling house has been subjected to severe punishment. The laying of odds standing alone does not, therefore, constitute a crime."

"The vice of bookmaking chiefly consists in soliciting and in inducing

the public to take chances in the carefully figured and planned schemes of the bookmakers, and this, in order to be made profitable to him, requires the writing out of the list of the odds laid on some paper or material so that it could be seen by those who were solicited to invest."

In holding that the laying of odds alone does not constitute a crime, Judge Haight says:

"If a man should offer to bet the ladies of his party a pair of gloves to a box of candy, it would be the laying of odds and publishing the same. To hold him to be a bookmaker would, in my judgment, be a departure from the rule which gives to the terms of the statute their ordinary and accepted meaning and would be a construction which was not within the contemplation of the Legislature."

Chief Judge Cullen in his opinion says:

"Legislation should be practical, and it is at least doubtful whether a statute making every offer or acceptance of a bet or wager a crime, in the present state of the morals, and in the habits of the community, could be enforced."

The decision in the lower court which is affirmed by the court of appeals was rendered by Justice W. J. Gaynor, who last week was elected mayor of New York City.

The status of bookmakers on the race tracks in the Metropolitan district will not be altered by yesterday's decision of the court of appeals upholding the legality of oral betting, except that the seal of the State's highest court is placed upon a system which has been employed by bookmakers and betters since shortly after the enactment of the Hart-Agnew law.

This method, while of course not so satisfactory as the former system of bookmaking to the betting public or to the bookmakers, has nevertheless been employed for reasonably heavy play at all the tracks in this district.

County Commissioners Must Comply With Law

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 9.—The attention of the Governor has been invited to the fact that the boards of county commissioners of several counties refuse to allow county prisoners the amount provided for the prisoners in Chapter 5565, Laws of Florida, which is as follows:

"It shall be the duty of all boards of county commissioners hiring out convicts for work to make provision for each convict so leased or hired out to receive, upon being discharged, transportation back to the place from which he was sentenced, or its equivalent in money for such purpose, in addition to the sum of three dollars when his sentence is for a period of less than four months, and for all prisoners whose term of sentence shall be more than four months the sum of five dollars, the same to be paid out of the hire derived from the lease of said convicts."

This is certainly a humane law. It appears as if the public sentiment of a county should see that such provision is enforced, without the necessity of the Governor taking extraordinary measures to enforce the same.

The State allows its prisoners at the rate of two months off in a year on account of good behavior. Some counties allow this to their prisoners and some do not. The result is that prisoners from those counties who do not receive this incentive to good behavior and who work side by side with prisoners from those counties who do not receive this incentive to good behavior, naturally become dissatisfied. There is no law compelling the county commissioners to allow this benefit on account of good behavior. It seems as if those interested in the welfare of the prisoners would create a public sentiment which would cause the county commissioners to allow this discount on account of such good behavior.

At a meeting of the county board in Pensacola, Adolph Hens, architect from Mobile, appeared in person before the assembly and informed that body that the contract for the new jail had been drawn up and was ready for examination and asked for a date on which he could show them. The board met on Tuesday and considered the plans.

Two Negroes Killed In Explosion at Palatka

PALATKA, Nov. 10.—As a result of a boiler explosion at the plant of the Palatka Gas Light & Fuel Company about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two colored men are dead, the town wrecked and the city is in darkness. The explosion caused the breaking of windows in many buildings, notably, the Presbyterian church, two miles away. Bricks, pieces of mortar and debris of every description were hurled into the air for blocks around the scene of the catastrophe, and an injury to persons or property has been reported.

The supposition is that the water level in the boiler and that pump which drew water into it caused it to burst. Another theory advanced is that the feed pump would not work and the two men who endeavored to repair it were powerless to prevent the impending blow-up. Their mangled, distorted and begrimed bodies were found within a few feet of the pump that was the cause of their sudden death.

The boiler itself parted, about the middle, tearing like paper. One end struck the earth and tore it up for a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, while the other extremity of the huge cauldron went clear in an opposite direction, demolishing the power house of the electric plant.

The chances are that several months will elapse before repairs can be made, so that electricity can be turned on the city and private circuits, and unless arrangements for steam can be made there will be no gas for motive power or illumination purposes from now on. The financial loss is not positively known, but it will reach far into the thousands.

Good and Effective Work Being Done
By the Present Body of Jurors.

Good and effective work is being done by the present grand jury, judging from the quick way in which they are turning out the business before them, and it seems that they will prove one of the most business like juries that was ever assembled here.

State vs. Elberta McQueen, murder.
State vs. Ben Styles, selling whiskey.
State vs. Shed Blake, selling whiskey.

Court Proceedings.

The third day's session of the circuit court was a busy one for the judge and jury, and while only a few cases were disposed of by the jury the judge was busy calling a number of cases from the criminal docket, which was begun on yesterday.

The following cases were called and the prisoners arraigned:

State vs. Clarence Williams, murder; defendant arraigned and plead not guilty.
State vs. Allen Johnson, alias Walter Williams, breaking and entering; arraigned and plead not guilty.
State vs. Jim Johnson and Joseph Hurst, obstructing railroad track; defendants arraigned. Johnson plead guilty, Hunt not guilty and a severance in the case was ordered.
State vs. March and Steve Wallace, larceny and receiving stolen goods; defendant arraigned and plead not guilty.
State vs. Joe Robinson, breaking and entering; plead not guilty.
State vs. Rosa Ravenell, grand larceny; plead not guilty.
State vs. Jim Lowry, murder; plead not guilty.

MRS. NIPPER INJURED BY A RUNAWAY MULE

BECAME FRIGHTENED ON WEST
LIBERTY STREET TUESDAY.

Lady Sustained Serious Injury, But Was Removed to Her Home on Wednesday.

A serious runaway accident happened on West Liberty street Tuesday about noon, when the mule attached to the wagon of S. P. Nipper became frightened and threw both he and his wife from the vehicle.

Fortunately Mr. Nipper was not seriously injured, and outside of a few bruises he came out unharmed, but his wife suffered to such an extent that it was necessary to take her to the hospital, where she remained until yesterday evening and was then transferred to her home at Newberry.

Besides receiving numerous wounds and bruises about the body, Mrs. Nipper suffered some concussion in the head, for all during Tuesday and until early yesterday morning she remained unconscious, and Dr. Hodges, who was called, stated that she was really in a most serious state.

Mr. Nipper stated that he passed an automobile and as his mule showed signs of fright some time before the machine reached him he did not think it necessary to warn the driver of the car, and by the time the machine came opposite him the mule had become unmanageable and threw them both to the ground with the above results.

A Surprise For the Hunters.

"If the lair of a leopard is known," says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, "stones will generally dislodge the lurker. I recall one occasion when a leopard was supposed to be located in a cave near camp. The guns were placed around in positions commanding the exit, and a few stones were then thrown in. There was no result at first, but as more and larger stones crashed in there came a faint humming and then a roar like the sea under the cliffs. In a moment the air above the cave's entrance grew dark with bees. As one man sportsman and gun bearers fled for the camp. A few were slightly stung before they could reach their tents and pull the flaps over the entrances, which the bees for some time besieged. Incredible though it may sound, it is the truth that, although the camp was full of native servants, horses, etc., none of those who had remained behind and were not concerned in the attack on the bees' cave were stung. It was a considerable time before the bees beat a retreat, but during all the time that they stayed in the camp it was the tents of their aggressors exclusively round which they angrily buzzed."

The Crab in the Whale's Ear.

When the whales were still frequent along the lines of passenger travel across the Atlantic nothing was more common than to see the great beasts hurling their bulk clean out of the waves and, after a flight through the air, falling back into the sea with an enormous splash, a spectacle never failing of interest to the ocean tourist, but not due to any sportive disposition on the part of the leviathan of the deep—quite the contrary. The breaching of the whale is no fun for the beast. It is a frantic effort to rid himself of the torture of earache. There is a marine crustacean which pesters whales to the verge of endurance, and there seems reason to believe that some whales have been driven insane by these tiny parasites. It is a crab of about the size of that which is found in the oyster. When it lodges on the whale it infests the inner surface of the eyelids and the ear. By swift rushes on the surface the whale is able to clear its eyes, but the crab in the inner ear cannot be dislodged by any such means.

OWEN MUST HANG SAYS SUPREME COURT

DECISION OF CIRCUIT COURT AFFIRMED BY HIGHER COURT.

Judge Will Issue Death Warrant Following a Lapse of Thirty Days of Decision.

The supreme court of the State has affirmed the decision of the circuit court in the case of R. H. Owen, the convicted white man who is now confined in the county jail at Jacksonville.

Owen's case has already been taken to the pardoning board, but that board refused to interfere in his behalf. It is now only a question of time until his death sentence will be fixed by Governor Gilchrist, who, however, will be in about ten days.

Owen's case has been delayed a great deal, and while the trial was prompt, the delay through it has since been made up on appeal, and for a while there was a rumor to the effect that Owen would be coming here to Jacksonville from jail and lynch him, which caused the sheriff to take Owen to Jacksonville for safekeeping.

The death warrant for Owen's execution will very likely be issued sometime in December, and it is highly probable that his execution will place the latter part of the year in the county jail here.

much that the cast shows careful selection, even to the players of minor roles, with a wealth of scenery at their command. The high calibre of the shows given was augmented by their appearance in public, the entire company earning the reputation of being well-dressed and prosperous looking. Taken all in all, they have won their way as a high-class attraction at popular prices and big business will no doubt fall to their share.

FOR PLAY GOERS.

"Servant in the House" to be Presented at Baird Theatre Nov. 18.

Local theatre goers will have an opportunity to see the most widely-discussed play on the American stage when Charles Rann Kennedy's famous drama, "The Servant in the House," comes to Gainesville on Thursday night, November 18.

This is the play which The New York Evening Post says is the "greatest drama of the generation" and "the best example of dramatic work now extant"; which Harper's Magazine calls "the most remarkable play in the English language," and which The Chicago Tribune says "The Servant in the House" is "a work of art that is true enough and simple enough to touch the heart of the world." The Canadian Magazine proclaims it a truly great play and says that in Mr. Kennedy England has found "a great dramatic genius, possibly the greatest since Shakespeare." The Chicago Record-Herald says the Kennedy drama is a "work for the world to see and ponder upon." The Chicago Inter-Ocean calls it an "epoch-making play," and The Chicago Journal said on the morning after its first presentation in the Windy City: "It has come to stay ten weeks. It ought to stay a year." "The Servant in the House" has been called the most daring play ever presented on the American stage because of the character that gives it its name—a mysterious Hindoo who many critics call a reincarnation of the Christ. It is, indeed, a daring role, but so reverently and intelligently treated by the author that no offence is given to even the most timid. The company presenting "The Servant in the House" has won a reputation second only to that achieved by the play.

THE DRAINMAN.

In "The Servant in the House," Baird Theatre, Thursday, Nov. 18.

It is known as the Henry Miller Associate Players and is the best balanced cast ever assembled to interpret a really great drama.

Besides the clothing sale all of the gent's furnishings have been included in this great price reduction, and it would prove especially interesting to those in need of clothing to call on them.

On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock they will absolutely give away $500 worth of clothing, all wrapped and thrown from the second story of their building at the corner of East Main and Union streets, and it is likely that this will attract a large crowd of buyers to the place.

The kindergarten of Central American Republics is certainly giving its Uncle Sam a lot of anxiety.

If the present high level of short staple cotton prices is maintained people of small means may be forced to wear silk.

It closely resembles the irony of fate that the bank that failed in Oklahoma happened to be the one in which the bank guaranty fund was deposited.

There could be no more striking demonstration of the high efficiency of our railroads than the establishment of a six-day freight service between New York and Seattle.

By marrying her ex-husband's father, a Cincinnati girl has become step-mother to her former "better half," and a woman's journal thinks this should go down in history as "the quintessence of revenge."

In the far West there's great discontent over the rising price of milk. They're getting fourteen quarts for a dollar in Nebraska, and are protesting against the tyranny of the grinding monopoly. Some of those howlers should move to Gainesville.

The Ocala Banner says that there will be some 200 contestants for the Boozier prizes for the best corn exhibits from selected seed in the Marion County Fair. Such contests as this will do much to promote interest in the production of cereal crops.

"Four of the Rockefeller Hook Worm Commission were born in North Carolina, although none of them, we believe, has so far been infected by this ailment. It must be said, however, that some of them have acted at times as if they needed vermifugal attention," says The Charleston News and Courier. To which The Asheville Gazette-News adds that "some of them have talked at times as if they needed spanking."

Former Governor Glenn recently made an address in Memphis in which he said: "I do not know your Governor, nor your sheriff or mayor, but if I were Governor of this State I would enforce the law, so help me God, even if I had to place a shotgun in the hands of every citizen." The Charleston News and Courier suggests that Mr. Glenn does not know his Memphis very well. Every citizen there already has a shotgun or a pistol.

Every project for improving a town or promoting its business and other interests should be considered on its merits. Too often that is not done, especially where the curse of faction exists. Where such a spirit prevails every proposition is bound to be vehemently supported by one faction and just as vehemently opposed by the other faction, and as a consequence the place suffers. For progress and prosperity it is necessary that everyone slink his personal prejudices and preferences and that all work together in intelligent and cheerful harmony.

THE CENSUS AND POLITICAL POWER CENTERS.

Having in mind the next census figures The Washington Post foresees a shifting of political power, and it thus speculates interestingly on the possibilities:

"Some of the politicians in the East are beginning to grow nervous over the forthcoming census of the population. On it will be based for the succeeding ten years the representation in the House of Representatives and in the electoral college. None of the North Atlantic States has increased in population very largely, and some of the smaller States have actually fallen off slightly in population, while the far West and Southwest have grown. The population in the whole country; it is confidently expected, will show such an increase that representation based on the present ratio would give the House an increase of between 75 and 100 members. If the ratio is increased so as to keep the membership at the present number, all the States north of the Ohio and east of Missouri, with the possible exception of Illinois, will probably lose. In the South, Georgia, Alabama and Texas, it is believed, will gain in membership, as will the States in the Northwest. Of course, all gains in the South will benefit the Democrats, while those in the Northwest are not so sure for the Republicans.

"This is what is giving the politicians in the East a session of unrest. Cutting off representation in such Republican States as Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, and that quasi-Republican State, Indiana, and giving it to Alabama, Texas, Georgia, Missouri, and the uncertain Northwestern States, might mean a reversal of conditions in Congress and the election of a Democratic President three years hence. An addition of 15 or 20 to the vote of the South in the electoral college and a reduction of the same number in the sure Republican States would make the next race an exceedingly interesting one. Especially will this be the case if the great Northwest continues in its present unsatisfied condition, as it will probably make considerable gains in its electoral representation. Viewed from any standpoint, it is enough to give the Republicans serious thought. Political power is rapidly slipping from the East to the West, and when the West learns the lesson of keeping good men in Congress it will exert the influence over legislation now exerted by the East."

The South, no less than the West, needs to have a realizing sense of the importance of keeping good men in Congress. The East has held the whip hand in matters of legislation at Washington, because it has deserved to. That section has taken these positions in the House and Senate seriously, and whenever a man has measured up to their high standards they have left him permanently on guard, to grow with the position. Most members from the South are compelled, in self-defense, to spend most of their means and energies in the never-ending struggle to keep their seats. There are too many districts where there is a sort of unwritten law that there must be a change every two years, to the end that some man may be paid for whatever service he may have rendered the party.

The moon will go into eclipse on the 27th of this month. It will take place at an early hour, 1 a. m., and at 4:38 the moon will make its final adieu to the shadow. Should the skies be clear it is said the eclipse will be one of the prettiest that it is possible to observe.

WHAT THE FARM BOYS MAY DO.

The boys on the farms are the hope of the country. Comparatively few of them go through the agricultural colleges, and most of them will spend their lives on the farms.

At the very outset, therefore, is to be determined whether those now boys will be leaders in their possession or mere followers in the old ruts made by the little mule and the tooth-pick plow, scratching the soil for a hard living, or learning to farm right, and taking a high position in the community where they live.

If we can get the boys to study the paper and write us questions, we believe that we can help them grow up to be useful men and good farmers. I am always glad to hear from a boy who wants to be a good farmer, a boy who loves the farm and wants to make his home attractive, and I will take pleasure, as Dr. Butler will, in replying to their questions on any topic that interests them. It is all in getting started right while you are a boy, for as the saying is: "It is hard to learn an old dog new tricks." Old men do not often change their methods, while the boys and the young men are open to conviction, and as I have said, they are the hope of the country for the future.

Many are taking the courses in the agricultural colleges, but they are few when compared with the thousands who must go to work on the farms without the college training, and it is these whom we want to get interested in reading and studying and asking questions.—W. F. Massey, in Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

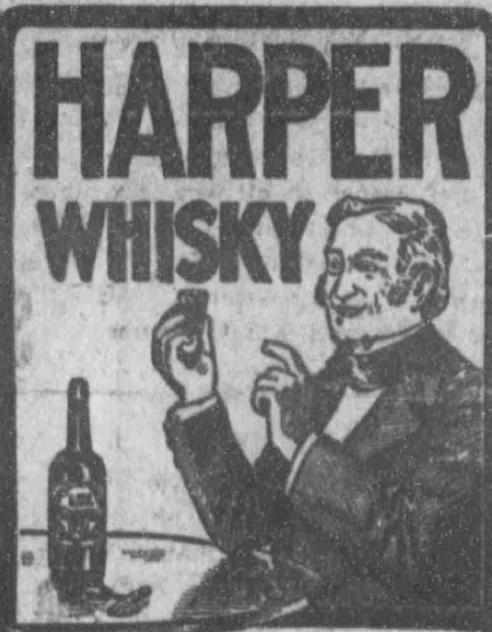

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich. — "I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman." — EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.
Chicago, Ill. — "I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman." — MRS. ALYSSA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

county commissioners at Brooksville last week arrangements were made to Never before has there been so many improvements going on in St. Augustine at one time as now. At present Smith & Woodman are having their store tiled, and have recently

The Miami Grocery Co., in Miami, have installed a McCrea refrigerator show case, in which they will display various perishable eatables, such as that city. There is a large compartment on either side of the ice box, the latter having 400 pounds capacity.

An ostrich farm will be established in Tampa in the near future—a substantial, permanent institution for breeding as well as exhibition purposes. The ostrich farm at Jacksonville has been one of the main attractions of that city for many years past, and there is no reason why such an enterprise should not be quite as successful in Tampa. The ostrich thrives in Florida, and the climate of the southern portion of the State is particularly adapted to the great birds.—Tampa Times.

Famous Cedars.
The famous cedars of Lebanon also grow in India and Algeria, but their home is the Lebanon of northern Syria. In ancient times the sides of the whole mountain were covered with them, but now they are found in only one small hollow on the northwestern slope. These are securely fenced in, but in spite of the great care of the gardener the 200 that now survive will soon die, and the species will become extinct.

A Broken Back.
That pain in your back caused by lumbago, stiff muscles or a strain, is an easy thing to get rid of. "Ox Eyes" For Two.

The drawback of fancy names for dishes is their tendency to be deficient in prosaic information. Would you order "angels on horseback," for instance, if you did not know what sort of thing it was? And to appeal to the waiter to interpret is humiliating. A correspondent recalls his own fate in the matter of "ochsenaugen" (ox eyes). Having repeatedly seen them on the menu among the pudding class during a tour in Germany, he and his wife eventually ordered them. "Two portions?" asked the woman waiter. "Oh, yes, two portions." It proved that two portions of ox eyes meant six fried eggs—as the final course of a hearty meal. And, as the wife had the moral courage to refuse to eat more than one, the cowardly husband, unwilling to give away that he had not known what he was ordering, had to worry down the five others.

A Startling Hat.

A lady's hat which would no doubt create as great a sensation today as it did at the time of its first appearance in 1352 was that worn by Blanche de Bourbon, queen of Castile, wife of Peter the Cruel. It cost $25 and was made in Paris. The hat itself was composed of de chypre and relieved with great pearls, garnets and enamel work. Children, carved in the whitest of ivory, were depicted picking acorns of pearls from the oak and scattering them to the swine below. Birds were singing in the trees, and at the foot were bees stealing honey from the flowers springing up from the verdure.

The First Firearms.

The early history of firearms in the sense of tubes from which missiles are thrown by the action of a detonating compound of the nature of gunpowder is wrapped in obscurity, though it may be inferred from the few early records that such weapons were first employed in warfare soon after the beginning of the fourteenth century, if not some time before. The country of their origin remains uncertain, but it was most probably Italy.

The Value of Good Digestion

Easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by immediately duplicating Nature's process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a healthy and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach is the man that is doing for the world just what Nature intended for him to do—the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is the man with the goods.

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unrefreshing sleep, sick-headaches, indigestion and fainting spells, and serious brain trouble develop.

Kodol will prevent these. It keeps the stomach and brain in perfect harmony.

AN EARTHLY INFERNO.

Vulcanizing Factory Where Men Stand 212 Degrees.

The hottest place in New York is in Desbrosses street in a vulcanizing factory, where telephone wires are insulated by being coated with a preparation of rubber. In the room where this process takes place the temperature rises to 212 degrees, 100 degrees hotter than the hottest it may be outside in the sun. Man can endure no more. Actually there are some who can stand this, however—only a few, mind you, but still some. They are only the strongest and hardest of workmen, and they can be in the room but a few brief minutes at a time. Several times daily it is their duty to enter the room to see that all goes well.

To keep from losing their skin and to protect themselves from the terrible heat these men wear heavy woolen shirts buttoned high above their necks and woolen masks and gloves. Four or five minutes at the most in the vulcanizing room is all they can stand without collapsing, and some can't even stay that long. Outside these men nobody is ever allowed to endure such a frightful heat. In fact, it is hard to convey the idea of 212 degrees. You can get the same degree of temperature by thrusting your finger into boiling water. Water boils at 212 degrees F.—New York World.

HE LOVED HER.

The Depth of His Feeling Was Revealed in His Answer.

"Do you love me?" he asked. In reply the modern young girl looked at the modern young man with eyes pervaded with emotion.

"Do I love you?" she repeated. "I do. I love you psychologically, sociologically, economically. From the psychological standpoint I feel that our different organisms are so nicely differentiated as to form a properly articulated area of combined consciousness. Sociologically our individual environment has been enough in contrast to form a proper basis for a right union. Economically I feel sure that when we come to combine we shall be able to introduce into the management of our affairs the right financial balance to produce the scientific result which every well ordered and conducted business produces. And, now, how do you love me?"

The young man reached forward. He clasped her swiftly, but surely, in his arms. He hugged her long and plenty. He kissed her alabaster cheek and her ruby lips.

"How do I love you?" he replied. "My dear girl, I love you just as much as if you really knew what you were talking about."—Life.

Study Under Difficulties.

It was my love for my children that gave me the energy, the will power, to reach great heights in my profession. I practiced. I studied my great roles and arias seated at the piano, the baby at my breast, the others playing around me none too softly. I memorized my parts while standing at the oil stove cooking our simple meal or, while busy at the wash tub, with my little ones always around me. Singing, learning, studying, I was supremely happy because they were with me. I brought up my children, and they were my comfort and my support. They made a brave, courageous "fellow" of me. And it was no difficult task. If I had to hurry to the theater for rehearsals I would give the children their supper at 5 o'clock and put them to bed. When I returned at 10 or 11 o'clock I would be greeted by merry birds' twitter from the different little nests, and I would divide my sandwiches with them. Then we would sleep as only the happy and healthy may.—Mme. Schumann-Heink in Delineator.

Collier and a Collier.

A single misprinted letter may produce astonishing results, and even the misreading of a capital letter as a small one may be disastrous. When John Payne Collier died the London Press correctly gave a paragraph stating that he had been buried in Bray churchyard, near Maidenhead, a large number of friends being present at the funeral. But a provincial paper which presumably knew nothing of the notorious Shakespearean critic gave the same paragraph concerning "John Payne, a collier," and to complete the thing headed it "The Bray Colliery Disaster."—London Chronicle.

Practical Superstition.

"Are you superstitious?"
"In a practical way."
"How is that?"
"Well, I never walk under a ladder unless I feel sure it won't fall on me, and I always expect bad luck when pursued by a mad bull across a lot in which there are just thirteen acres."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Think Is Cheap.

"I think I shall go to Europe."
"How the deuce can you afford to go to Europe?"
"I can't, but I can afford to think."—Brooklyn Life.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Some Advice Against the Use of Harsh Purgatives and Physics.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver. This condition poisons the system with waste matter and causes accumulation of gases which must be removed through the bowels before health can be restored.

Salts, ordinary pills and cathartics may be truly likened to dynamite. Through their harsh, irritating action they force a passage through the bowels, causing pain and damage to the delicate intestinal structure which weakens the whole system, and at best only produces temporary relief. The repeated use of such treatments causes chronic irritation of the stomach and bowels, dries and hardens their tissues, deadens their nerves, stiffens their muscles and generally brings about an injurious habit which sometimes has almost, if not fatal results.

We have a pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of its general curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case where it fails to produce entire satisfaction. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies. We urge you to try them at our entire risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quickly and have a soothing, strengthening, healing regulative influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying efforts, and they may be taken at any time without inconvenience.

Rexall Orderlies overcome the drugging habit and safely remedy constipation and associate ailments, whether acute or chronic, except in surgical cases. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Price, 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Gainesville only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

WILL ERECT NEW MILL.

T. J. Swearingen Interested in Another Industry Close to City.

T. J. Swearingen has made arrangements whereby he will establish another mill, to be located two and a half miles west of the city, and hopes to have the same in operation within about sixty days.

It is understood that he will have associated with him H. G. Rembert of Starke, and they will use the small mill now owned by Mr. Swearingen at Kanapaha, which will be moved to the new site and placed in operation.

There is a section of land there which is considered by mill men to be one of the finest bodies of round timber in this part of Florida, and being of extra large size will afford some extra fine lumber.

With the capacity of the small mill it is estimated that a sufficient quantity of timber is already owned to operate the mill for a term of about two years.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

BEVILL MURDER CASE SEEMS TO BE "JONAH"

Long to Destruction of Sumter County Court House Complications Arise.

trial of John Bevill, for the murder of his wife's parents in Sumter county, promises to be a record-breaking and make much local history. Soon after the fire of last January, which destroyed the Sumter county house, the county commissioners of said county designated the 200 feet from the old court known as the Rutland building temporary temple of justice. Into the clerk of the court moved designated said building with a that read "temporary court" all of which was set forth in minutes of the board of county commissioners.

When the March term of court on the county commissioners the Rutland building too small to accommodate said term of court, the clerk and sheriff to fix a school house for said court's use, in which building said term of court was held and there the petit grand juries for the following of court were drawn.

In the present or November of court was about to meet, the commissioners, because school session, were compelled to other quarters, which they found old church building some 400 south of the site of the burned building.

Comes in the fine Italian band legal lights employed to defend Bevill, who not only proposed to quash the indictment in the minutes of the board of commissioners failed to show different moves of the court and case authority same was done. Defense filed a plea in abatement, up that no valid grand jury was drawn for the trial of their client, and that the court was not sitting at the county seat. The State was up a stump as the contention set up disclosed the fact that the November court to try the Bevill case was outside of the designated boundary line or limits of the county seat of Sumter, which embraces 400 acres of land.

The court recognized its position and with the grace that comes from judicial reflection, withdrew from its untenable legal position, moved back to the aforesaid Rutland building, labeled "temporary court house," and all proceedings pertaining to the Bevill case up to that time were quashed, a new venire was drawn and a new grand jury empaneled to get at the facts in the case. Mrs. Bevill, wife of the defendant, who saw the shooting, was summoned to testify, which she refused to do on the ground that she was the wife of the accused. To aid and maintain the dignity of the court and to meet out justice under the laws of the State, a rule was issued against Mrs. Bevill for contempt of court, but before she could be brought into court her attorneys filed her answer, to wit: that being the wife of the defendant, she refused to testify. The court held the answer insufficient and adjudged the woman in contempt of court and sentenced her to jail for 30 days. When she was taken by the sheriff her attorneys took out a writ of habeas corpus to the supreme court, which will be heard by said body within the next ten or fifteen days.

As a new venire had to be served and only one day of court remained, the court adjourned to await the action of the supreme court in the writ of habeas corpus taken out by Mrs. Bevill's attorneys.—Ocala Star.

Low Inland Towns Are Discriminated Against

Ocala Banner recently contained the following:

"We are glad that some of our State papers, notably The Tampa Tribune, are giving some attention to the inequalities in freight rates.

"We shall cite a case which will show how glaring are these inequalities.

"Freight on canned goods from Jacksonville to Ocala is twenty cents per hundred pounds.

"Freight on the same goods from Jacksonville to Ocala is forty-one cents per hundred pounds.

"One would think that the merchant, shipping a cargo of goods from Jacksonville to Ocala, would pay a freight rate of twenty cents to Jacksonville and forty-one cents to Ocala, making a total of sixty-one cents.

"Not so. He has to pay ninety-one cents.

"Ocala dealer is told that from Jacksonville to Ocala is interstate and the interstate rates makes the difference.

"Does this inequality show itself in the Jacksonville dealer, having to pay twenty cents per hundred for goods from Jacksonville to Ocala, while the same goods cost the Jacksonville dealer fifty-three cents per hundred pounds from Jacksonville to Ocala, making a difference of twenty-three cents per hundred pounds in the Jacksonville dealer's cost.

"Where is the justice in such a business operation, and with these inequalities in force, how are we to build up a wholesale business in the interior?"

"We pause for an answer."

Not only are these irregularities hurtful and annoying, but railroads are privileged to do other things which are not admissible to individuals and other corporations.

The writer recently had occasion to ship a couple of carloads of stuff from Savannah, Ga., to Tallahassee. A rate on the shipment was guaranteed us and inserted in the bill of lading. The contents of the two cars were carefully packed, labeled and braced to avoid any breakage or damage. When the cars arrived in Tallahassee the careful packing and bracing had all been torn asunder, the goods tumbled over indiscriminately on the floor, and much of it was broken and rendered valueless, besides a rate of three times the guaranteed amount charged against the shipment.

If this public carrier could not have protected the rate it should never have been given. When a car is loaded for a designated point it is the presumption that the consignor or consignee owns that car until its contents are delivered, and no one should be privileged to enter and molest it.

We were damaged far in excess of the raised rate on the shipment, and the railroad will be the sufferer by not permitting its original agreement to stand.—Tallahassee Democrat.

GRAND JURY RETURNS LIST OF INDICTMENTS

USUAL ARMY OF BOOZE SELLERS AND MURDERERS IN LIST.

Good and effective work is being done by the present grand jury, judging from the quick way in which they are turning out the business before them, and it seems that they will prove one of the most business like juries that was ever assembled here.

When the court convened yesterday morning with Judge Wills and Attorney Rivers in their places the jury filed into the room and rendered the following true bills, all of the parties named being either confined in the county jail or having given satisfactory bond:

State vs. Clarence Smith, murder.
State vs. Allen Johnson, breaking and entering.
State vs. James Johnson and James Hunt, obstructing railroad track.
State vs. March and Steve Wallace, larceny and receiving stolen property.
State vs. Joe Robinson, breaking and entering.
State vs. Jim Lundy, murder.
State vs. Jim Lowry, murder.
State vs. Ross Ravinell, grand larceny.

In the following cases no bills were found, and the defendants were ordered released: W. C. Clayton, Clarence McKinley, Ned Robinson, Lee Mickel, Henry Frazier.

In the afternoon the following true bills were returned:

State vs. J. M. Verner, murder.
State vs. J. M. Verner, assault with intent to kill.
State vs. Elberta McQueen, murder.
State vs. Ben Styles, selling whiskey.
State vs. Shed Blake, selling whiskey.

Court Proceedings.

The third day's session of the circuit court was a busy one for the judge and jury, and while only a few cases were disposed of by the jury the judge was busy calling a number of cases from the criminal docket, which was begun on yesterday.

The following cases were called and the prisoners arraigned:

State vs. Clarence Williams, murder; defendant arraigned and plead not guilty.

State vs. Allen Johnson, alias Walter Williams, breaking and entering; arraigned and plead not guilty.

State vs. Jim Johnson and Joseph Hunt, obstructing railroad track; defendants arraigned. Johnson plead guilty, Hunt not guilty and a severance in the case was ordered.

State vs. March and Steve Wallace, larceny and receiving stolen goods; defendant arraigned and plead not guilty.

State vs. Joe Robinson, breaking and entering; plead not guilty.

ORAL BETTING HELD NOT TO BE A CRIME

System In Vogue for Some Time at New York Race Tracks is Upheld.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Betting is a crime only when accompanied by a record, registry or the use of some part of the paraphernalia of professional gamblers, according to a decision handed down yesterday by the court of appeals. In effect the decision holds that oral betting does not constitute bookmaking in violation of the so-called anti-race track gambling laws recommended by Governor Hughes. The court affirms the order of the lower courts for the discharge from custody of Orlando Jones and Sol Lichtenstein who were indicted in Kings county on a charge of bookmaking.

Jones and Lichtenstein were charged with orally laying and publishing odds on horse races and accepting a bet on the basis of such odds.

Assistant District Attorney Elder of Kings county contended that bookmaking was a gambling scheme within meaning of the statute, and that while memoranda might be an aid to the person conducting the business, yet it had no essential part in the transaction.

Counsel for Jones and Lichtenstein contended that the only effort of the law was to provide a uniform penalty for the recording and registry of bets wherever made, and that the making of an ordinary bet between individuals did not constitute a crime.

Five of the justices, including Chief Justice Cullen, agreed in the opinion rendered yesterday and one dissented. The prevailing decision says in part:

"There has always been observed a distinction between betting and gambling, or the maintaining of a house or place to which people could resort to gamble. The same distinction obtains in this State where oral betting has never been a crime, while the keeping of a gambling house has been subjected to severe punishment. The laying of odds standing alone does not, therefore, constitute a crime.

"The vice of bookmaking chiefly consists in soliciting and in inducing

the public to take chances in the carefully figured and planned schemes of the bookmakers, and this, in order to be made profitable to him, requires the writing out of the list of the odds laid on some paper or material so that it could be seen by those who were solicited to invest."

In holding that the laying of odds alone does not constitute a crime, Judge Haight says:

"If a man should offer to bet the ladies of his party a pair of gloves to a box of candy, it would be the laying of odds and publishing the same. To hold him to be a bookmaker would, in my judgment, be a departure from the rule which gives to the terms of the statute their ordinary and accepted meaning and would be a construction which was not within the contemplation of the Legislature."

Chief Judge Cullen in his opinion says:

"Legislation should be practical, and it is at least doubtful whether a statute making every offer or acceptance of a bet or wager a crime, in the present state of the morals, and in the habits of the community, could be enforced."

The decision in the lower court which is affirmed by the court of appeals was rendered by Justice W. J. Gaynor, who last week was elected mayor of New York City.

The status of bookmakers on the race tracks in the Metropolitan district will not be altered by yesterday's decision of the court of appeals upholding the legality of oral betting, except that the seal of the State's highest court is placed upon a system which has been employed by bookmakers and betters since shortly after the enactment of the Hart-Agnew law.

This method, while of course not so satisfactory as the former system of bookmaking to the betting public or to the bookmakers, has nevertheless been employed for reasonably heavy play at all the tracks in this district.

County Commissioners Must Comply With Law

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 9.—The attention of the Governor has been invited to the fact that the boards of county commissioners of several counties refuse to allow county prisoners the amount provided for the prisoners in Chapter 5563, Laws of Florida, which is as follows:

"It shall be the duty of all boards of county commissioners hiring out convicts for work to make provision for each convict so leased or hired out to receive, upon being discharged, transportation back to the place from which he was sentenced, or its equivalent in money for such purpose, in addition to the sum of three dollars when his sentence is for a period of less than four months, and for all prisoners whose term of sentence shall be more than four months the sum of five dollars, the same to be paid out of the hire derived from the lease of said convicts."

This is certainly a humane law, it appears as if the public sentiment of a county should see that such provision is enforced, without the necessity of the Governor taking extraordinary measures to enforce the law.

The State allows its prisoners at the rate of two months off in a year on account of good behavior. Some counties allow this to their prisoners and some do not. The result is that prisoners from those counties who do not receive this incentive to good behavior and who work side by side with prisoners from those counties who do not receive this incentive to good behavior, naturally become dissatisfied. There is no law compelling the county commissioners to allow this benefit on account of good behavior. It seems as if those interested in the welfare of the prisoners would create a public sentiment which would cause the county commissioners to allow this discount on account of such good behavior.

At a meeting of the county board in Pensacola, Adolph Benz, architect from Mobile, appeared in person before the assembly and informed that body that the contract for the new jail had been drawn up and was ready for examination and asked for a date on which he could show them. The board met on Tuesday and considered the plans.

KENNEDY GIVES TO CHARITY $25,000,000

THE LARGEST SINGLE CONTRIBUTION EVER MADE.

All Sections and Even Foreign Countries Share in the Benefactions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—John Stewart Kennedy, one of America's little-known rich men, who died of whooping cough in his New York residence on Sunday last, left bequests of more than $25,000,000 to religious, charitable and educational institutions in his will, filed for probate here yesterday. The gift is the largest single contribution of its kind ever made and the beneficiaries include educational and church institutions, North, South, East and West in this country and several abroad, sixty in all.

Nearly half of the $25,000,000 goes to institutions connected with the Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Kennedy was an active member. Other large beneficiaries include the American Bible Society, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the New York United Charities, Columbia University and Robert College, Constantinople.

Aside from these gifts Mr. Kennedy left approximately $35,000,000 to his wife, his relatives and a great number of friends and employees. The widow's share will be about $16,000,000. All of the testator's employees receive gifts of from $500 to $2,000 each.

The charitable, religious and educational institutions which receive the largest bequests are to share the residue of the estate left after definite gifts of approximately $12,000,000 have been paid out. Their shares are estimated by the executors as follows:

Presbyterian board of foreign missions, $2,250,000.

Presbyterian board of home missions, $2,250,000.

Presbyterian church extension fund, $2,250,000.

Presbyterian Hospital, New York, $2,250,000.

Robert College, Constantinople, $1,500,000.

Presbyterian board of aid for colleges, $750,000.

Metropolitan museum of art, New York, $2,250,000.

New York Public Library, $2,250,000.

Columbia University, $2,250,000.

United Charities, New York, $1,500,000.

American Bible Society, $750,000.

Charity Organization Society, New York, $750,000.

Among numerous smaller gifts are the following:

Yale College, $100,000.

University of Glasgow, Scotland, ("Where from my infancy I resided until I came to this country") $100,000.

Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, $100,000.

Hampton Normal School and Agricultural Institute, $100,000.

Anatolia College, Marsovan, Turkey, $50,000.

Syrian Protestant College, Beirut, Syria, $25,000.

American school at Smyrna, Turkey, $20,000.

Center College, Danville, Ky., $25,000.

Presbyterian board of relief for disabled ministers, $20,000.

There are also numerous bequests of from $5,000 to $25,000, generally to local religious and charitable organizations.

The long list of gifts is prefaced in the will by this paragraph:

"Having greatly prospered in the business which I carried on for more than thirty years in this, my adopted country, and being desirous of leaving some expression of my sympathy with its religious, charitable, benevolent and educational institutions, I make these gifts."

Mr. Kennedy, whose death on Sunday occurred with only brief comment by the press, was one of the millionaire philanthropists whose gifts, though measured in millions, were made with as little glare of publicity as possible. As he gave quietly, so he had lived, unostentatiously, and made his princely fortune with little blare of trumpets. Besides being a banker, he was one of the country's chief builders of railroads, a patron of art and education, and, in his own quiet way, one of New York's foremost advocates of scientifically organized charity.

probably never were made public, but he figured in recent years as the giver of the $800,000 home for the United Charities in this city, $1,000,000 to the Presbyterian Hospital, $250,000 to the school of philanthropy, $500,000 to Columbia University, and of $400,000 to a nurse's home for the Presbyterian Hospital. Many, even among the well-informed, had little idea as to the real wealth of the retired banker.

On Wall street, Mr. Kennedy had the reputation of keeping the largest cash balance in his bank accounts of any New York financier.

As banker and investor, he always showed great interest in the development of the Northwest.

KILLED WHILE TRYING TO BOARD TRAIN

GEORGE SMITH MEETS ALMOST INSTANT DEATH MONDAY.

Was En Route to Ocala to Assist His Son, Who Was Reported In Trouble.

from Tuesday's Daily Sun:

George Smith, a middle-aged colored man who was employed by Wade Thomas of Montecchia, was killed here Monday at noon while attempting to board the south-bound passenger train of the A. C. L. just off the square.

From what could be learned it appears that Smith had learned of his son being arrested at Ocala and came here for the purpose of getting the money to go there and get him out of his trouble, when he met his sudden death by being ground to death under the wheels of the cars.

Two coaches passed over the man's legs and from his thighs down his flesh resembled a mass of sausage meat, so badly cut and mangled was his condition, and he lived only a few minutes after the accident, never once speaking to anyone.

Witnesses who claim to have seen the accident state that the train had passed and the darkey at first caught the Pullman car to board the train, but realizing he was in the wrong place turned loose and ran further up between the white coach and the Pullman and attempted to get on the train but someone standing on the platform interfered with his getting aboard and in some manner his feet were caught under the trucks, which quickly pulled him from his hold and he was ground beneath the wheels.

Sheriff Ramsey on learning of the affair summoned Justice Carlisle, who viewed the remains, but after hearing some of the evidence deemed that an inquest was unnecessary and turned the body over to Smith's wife and other relatives who had come with him to the city.

The darkey was said to be a good man and had worked for Mr. Thomas for quite awhile on his farm in the Montecchia section, but desirous of releasing his son from trouble had come here and secured the money only to meet his sudden end.

The above is the second accident resulting in death that is known to have happened on this road here since it has been running through the city and is a most remarkable record, in view of the fact that people are always jumping on and off the cars while the same are in motion.

CHILD COVERED WITH HIVES

Tormented Two Months—It Itched and Irritated and Scratching Made It Worse—Little Sufferer in Terrible Plight—Several Treatments of No Avail—But at Last the

DREADFUL DISEASE IS CURED BY CUTICURA

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it, although we did not know it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all skin diseases and give them my greatest praise. Mrs. Geo. L. Fridhoff, R. F. D. 1, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, 1908."

I would not be without it in the house and I have recommended it to all my friends. Mrs. J. D. Maxwell, 6th St., Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., May 21, 1908."

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

SHOWMAN FOUND DEAD ON RAILROAD TRACKS.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 9.—Murder is assigned as the reason for the death of Walter Hyde, an employe of the Barnum & Bailey circus, who was found decapitated and his body badly dismembered on the tracks of the Southern Railway midnight Sunday night by a fellow-workman. Hyde was last seen with a negro man, whom the police are hunting.

Coroner T. E. Young conducted an inquest, which resulted in a finding that the man met foul play, and was placed on the tracks to hide the crime.

Hyde was a native of Brooklyn, and was 29 years of age, and was a sober and steady employe.

The Pensacola News, a strong supporter of Governor Broward for United States Senator in the last primary, is now advocating the election of Hon. W. A. Blount with all the tact for which its able editor is noted.

A hundred miles of macadam roads would do more to advance the material interests of Alachua county than the expenditure of a similar sum of money for any other work that could be mentioned. There is not a more fertile county in the State, and good roads would bring new settlers to cultivate the lands and cause every nook and corner of the county to blossom as the rose.

Sixteen years ago the editor of The Sun was the owner of the only pedigree fox terrier canine in Gainesville. Now there are a number of well-bred fox terriers in town—and hundreds of half-breeds. A well-bred fox terrier will keep your house free of rats, mice and roaches, if you allow the dog the freedom of the house, and there is not a finer pet to be found in the animal kingdom. They can be taught to do anything, but require almost as much attention as a baby.

The Sun is pleased to note that the proposed hard road to Lake Newnan is now almost a certainty. There is not a more beautiful sheet of water in all Florida than Lake Newnan, and the construction of the proposed hard road would soon result in this beautiful lake being a great pleasure resort. If Mr. Phillip Miller succeeds in getting the road built he will have erected a monument to himself which will be pointed to by generations to come. By all means let's have the road to Lake Newnan, Gainesville's natural pleasure resort.

Alachua county's public schools were never in better financial condition than they are at the present time, and for this condition of affairs too much credit cannot be given Dr. J. L. Kelley, the worthy superintendent of county schools. When he went into the office an enormous debt stood as a menace to the school interests, but through his indefatigable efforts and business sagacity, in which he had the hearty co-operation of every member of the school board, the school fund now has a balance to its credit instead of a deficit. The people are certainly to be congratulated upon the present condition of the public schools.

The wets were victorious in the local option election in Dade county last Saturday by a majority of 44. Two years ago the saloon interests only had four majority, since which time Palm Beach county has been created from Dade and there are now two wet counties comprising old Dade. Recent elections in the State on the whiskey question show that the wets and dries are each holding their own, and indications are the State-wide prohibition amendment next year will not be as easily adopted as supporters of the measure have been claiming. It is going to be a hard-fought battle, and no one can foretell the result at the present time.

VARIOUS OPINIONS ON THE ELECTIONS.

It is of course inevitable that there should be much speculation over the probable future of Tammany Hall. But it is much too early to administer on Tammany's estate. It is too large, and the chieftains can easily survive a period of separation from the purse strings. It is of course a very serious thing for an organization like Tammany to lose the board of estimate and apportionment. One cannot overestimate what has generally been termed the cohesive power of public plunder, but the Tiger's hold has not been altogether broken, and thoughts of possible plunder to come should have a cohesive effect. Besides which, there is little doubt that New York has been governed in such a way as to suit New York, in a large measure. The New York Sun seems to realize this, and it takes the election of an undesirable citizen very seriously. On the morning after it said:

"Judge Gaynor, certainly the most unfit candidate ever offered for the mayoralty in the history of the community, has been elected by an impressive plurality. The fact is full of sinister significance."

"We discern in it a deplorable manifestation of public temperament, and irrepressible determination to give effect to a sense of deep and widespread resentment, but to do so without a thought of the consequences or of the moral delinquency involved in the act."

On the morning preceding the election The Sun had thus alluded to Tammany's candidate:

"Whoever is elected, the community has at last a reason for gratitude to its wise and pure monarch. No matter if the mephitic plague should continue for four years and the blind, the deaf and those with an imperfect sense of smell be envied and envious as they have been for the last few weeks, still are thanks due to our illustrious potentate and grand elector, the supreme werowance of Tammany. He has taken Gaynor off the bench. Even should the city lose, the courts and the State have gained immeasurably."

Judge Gaynor told recently how he expected to prosecute a number of people after the election. He was accused, among other things, of being in sympathy with the race track gamblers and other undesirable elements. We are inclined to think, however, that it would be well for him to start that movement against The Sun.

The Washington Post, having before it the early returns, saw therein some things to which it refers as follows:

"The elections indicate that the people of the country, from Maine to California, are tired of too strenuous 'reform.' Wherever they had an opportunity they turned down self-appointed 'reformers' and elected plain, ordinary American citizens to office. Gibboney, the Philadelphia reformer; Tom Johnson, the Cleveland reformer, and Heney, the San Francisco reformer, were beaten out-right, and Whitlock, the Toledo reformer, barely got through."

"The campaign and election in New York attracted most attention, but there was really no issue involved, except the old issue of Tammany. The big guns of the Republican and Democratic parties took no part in the campaign. The outcome has no bearing upon national issues. Tammany elects Judge Gaynor, but loses control of the purse strings. So its victory is barren. The organization, however, remains intact—the best fighting machine in the country."

"The lack of any real issue in the New York campaign accounts for the comparatively small vote cast for Mr. Hearst. He is at his best when fighting aggressively on clear-cut issues. The outcome, in our opinion, has no bearing upon Mr. Hearst's possible strength in future struggles. He is a man to be reckoned with hereafter."

"The elections, while locally interesting, had little or no relation to national questions. The results afford very few hints as to the attitude of the people toward tariff matters, for example. Republican strongholds remain at their normal strength, and Democratic sections remain untroubled. The country will have to wait longer before it can estimate the temper of the people as affected by events since last November."

We think The Post, however, is in error in saying the various elections are without national significance. The returns from Massachusetts indicate that the political days of Senator Lodge are numbered.

W. P. Tompkins made a business trip to Cross Creek Friday.

R. J. Tompkins, H. C. Martin and son and Millard Sykes and son of Cross Creek were business visitors to town Saturday.

A. C. Hayman made a business trip to Hawthorn Thursday.

F. M. Coleman, merchant, has been badly under the weather for the last few days. He went to the doctor, though, Sunday and is much improved, of which his many friends are glad to learn.

J. W. Hayman has had a very painful rising on his right jaw, but it is much better at present.

W. P. Tompkins and J. N. Hayman are attending circuit court in Gainesville this week.

Miss Jane Beal departed Thursday for her home in South Florida. Miss Beal has been here visiting her sister, Mrs. J. N. Hayman, and made many friends while here who regretted very much to see her leave, but hope to see her smiling face again sometime soon.

R. T. Caldwell attended preaching at Island Grove Sunday night.

J. C. Hayman made a flying visit to Island Grove Sunday.

Prof. C. A. Roberts and Misses Anna and Selma Tompkins attended preaching at Island Grove Sunday night.

A. C. Hayman and sister, Elsie, spent Sunday in Island Grove with friends.

The people of this section are grinding cane. Syrup is on the market, and many of us are glad, too, because now we have something very delicious to paste our batter cakes and biscuits with.

Passenger train No. 66, North bound, changed schedule Sunday. The only change is 30 minutes earlier, but instead of coming on her new schedule she has run four hours late of her old schedule for two days. Seemingly it did not do much good to change the running time.

Our school is doing nicely under the proficient management of Prof. C. A. Roberts. We have a larger attendance than we have had for a number of years.

R. G. Mingleford lost a valuable hog last week. The train ran over it and killed it.

The drouth here remains unbroken and the want of rain entails great financial loss to all truck growers.

S. Roe has gone to Island Grove to work in the orange grove.

A general fusillade in the woods around town ever since the morning of the first of the month would seem to indicate that there will not be many turtle doves or quail left at the end of the season. The duck hunters are meeting with good success, there being a good supply of all kinds this year.

The catfish are moving pretty plentifully now, there being over 1,200 pounds of dressed cats to leave here last Saturday. The fish bring 12 cents per pound dressed.

J. A. Jackson, who has previously been working for the Melton Lumber Company of Micanopy, is building a tram road for a mill at Edenfield. He left yesterday to take charge of same.

MRS. NIPPER INJURED BY A RUNAWAY MULE

BECAME FRIGHTENED ON WEST LIBERTY STREET TUESDAY.

Lady Sustained Serious Injury, But Was Removed to Her Home on Wednesday.

A serious runaway accident happened on West Liberty street Tuesday about noon, when the mule attached to the wagon of S. P. Nipper became frightened and threw both he and his wife from the vehicle.

Fortunately Mr. Nipper was not seriously injured, and outside of a few bruises he came out unharmed, but his wife suffered to such an extent that it was necessary to take her to the hospital, where she remained until yesterday evening and was then transferred to her home at Newberry.

Besides receiving numerous wounds and bruises about the body, Mrs. Nipper suffered some concussion in the head, for all during Tuesday and until early yesterday morning she remained unconscious, and Dr. Hodges, who was called, stated that she was really in a most serious state.

Mr. Nipper stated that he passed an automobile and as his mule showed signs of fright some time before the machine reached him he did not think it necessary to warn the driver of the car, and by the time the machine came opposite him the mule had become unmanageable and threw them both to the ground with the above results.

Phifer Bros., the Racket people, will inaugurate a new and novel sale for Gainesville on Saturday, when they commence what they term a "whirlwind sale," to last for a period of ten days.

Never before have such prices been given on clothing in this city, and it will be seen that they propose to sell a great many goods, if there is any demand, by making the low prices. Besides the clothing sale all of the gents' furnishings have been included in this great price reduction, and it would prove especially interesting to those in need of clothing to call on them.

On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock they will absolutely give away $500 worth of clothing, all wrapped and thrown from the second story of their building at the corner of East Main and Union streets, and it is likely that this will attract a large crowd of buyers to the place.

OWEN MUST HANG SAYS SUPREME COURT

DECISION OF CIRCUIT COURT FIRMED BY HIGHER COURT

Governor Will Issue Death Warrant Following a Lapse of Thirty Days of Decision.

The supreme court of the State affirmed the decision of the circuit court in the case of R. H. Owen, condemned white man who is now confined in the county jail at Jacksonville.

Owen's case has already been before the pardoning board, but the body refused to interfere in his half and it is now only a question of time until his death sentence again be fixed by Governor Gilchrist, which, however, will be in thirty days.

This case has been delayed a deal, and while the trial was going through with it has since hung up on appeal, and for a while there was a rumor to the effect that Jonesville citizens were coming to take the man from jail and hang him, which caused the sheriff to take the man to Jacksonville for keeping.

The death warrant for Owen's execution will very likely be issued sometime in December, and it is very probable that his execution take place the latter part of the in the county jail here.

GIVE THE BOY A CHANCE

There is no doubt that if he would make farm life more attractive and less of dreary drudgery, says Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer the boys who are suited to be farmers would be attracted to the farm, would return there after getting proper education. But the duty of the farmer, as it is the duty of every man, is to give his boys the very best education he can. An education that will educate only the mind but train the body to enable the man to do some of the world needs having. The fact that a boy has been on the farm does not mean that he is always the man for the farm, education may open to him the usefulness in which he will have a better success than on the farm itself, and, if he has the advantage of a good agricultural college education, agriculture will be all the better if he finds that he is bettered to be a scientist in the science which agriculture is founded, he returned to the farm with a new and more scientific pursuits. The experiments look to the college to train for their work, and the farms are trained investigators in the science fully as much as they need be on the farms.

Give the boy the real education and then let him take his natural bent. If he was cut out for a farmer he would get to the farm eventually. Educated boys who drift hopelessly into the cities. The boy trained in good agricultural college will have a place open to his ability as Mr. Carnegie once said: "The world is always on the hunt for boys with educated minds and hands." This agricultural education is the hope of the South, where boys go back directly to the farm, not, for they will be a force in the advancement of the work where they go.

The highest medical authority on foods, Sir James Crichton Browne, LL.D.—F.R.S. of London, gives the best reasons for eating more Quaker Oats

In an article published in the Youth's Companion of September 23rd, 1909, Dr. Browne, the great medical authority on foods, says, about brain and muscle building—
"There is one kind of food that seems to me of marked value as a food to the brain and to the whole body throughout childhood and adolescence (youth), and that is oatmeal."
"Oats are the most nutritious of all the cereals, being richer in fats, organic phosphorus and lecithins."
He says oatmeal is gaining ground with the well-to-do of Great Britain. He speaks of it as the mainstay of the Scottish laborer's diet and says it produces a big-boned, well-developed, mentally energetic race. His experiments prove that good oatmeal such as Quaker Oats not only furnishes the best food for the human being, but eating it strengthens and enlarges the thyroid gland—this gland is intimately connected with the nourishing processes of the body.

In conclusion he says—
"It seems probable therefore that the bulk and brawniness of the Northerners (meaning the Scotch) has been in some measure due to the stimulation of the thyroid gland by oatmeal porridge in childhood."
The Scotch eat Quaker Oats because it is the best of all oat-meals.

ANOTHER "TIGER" IS CAUGHT BY MARSHAL

WORKED SCHEME OF MARKED
MONEY ON DEFENDANT.

Only a Half Pint of Whiskey Was Purchased, Which Led to Hutchinson's Arrest.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Lem Hutchinson, who operates a small stand in what is known as the "alley," was arrested on Sunday by Marshal Dell charged with selling whiskey and will be given his preliminary hearing before Mayor Davis.

This is only one among a number of "suspects" that the Marshal has had in view and with the assistance of Chas. Pinkoson and B. M. Heckard a plan was devised to catch the man, whom they had suspected strongly for a long while.

Hutchinson was found at his place of business and readily waited on the colored men who were sent to the place with marked money to buy whiskey, and after the trade was closed they delivered the whiskey and cigars over to the officer, who made the arrest.

Marked money was used of the denomination of 25-cent pieces, two being required to purchase only a half-pint of the "fire water." The remaining 10 cents was to buy two cigars.

Three colored men were in the scheme with the officers, and are witnesses to the transaction, while the money and whiskey comprise the other evidence in the case, for the same money was found upon the negro after the trade was made and the Marshal made the arrest.

From Wednesday's Daily:

Lem Hutchinson was sentenced to sixty days in the city jail by Mayor Davis on Tuesday morning after hearing the evidence in the case, the defendant being charged with selling whiskey.

Three negroes who were present when the sale of "booze" and cigars was made testified in the Mayor's court, but the most important witnesses were Oscar Williams and S. W. White, the latter negro being the one that purchased the whiskey.

In addition to this evidence was Marshal Dell and B. M. Heckard, who testified that the marked money taken from Lem's pockets was the same as that which they had furnished White to buy the whiskey with, and this completed the case against Hutchinson, who, it is stated, is an old offender and has been many times trapped but never landed.

Following the sentence of sixty days in jail, Evans Hall, attorney for the negro, gave notice that an appeal would be taken and Mayor Davis instructed that the negro be turned over to the county authorities for the offense.

A warrant was at once issued in the name of the State against Hutchinson and he was arraigned before Judge Mason, who bound him over under an appearance bond until next Tuesday morning, the same being fixed at $300, when he will have his preliminary hearing.

Mayor Davis was fully satisfied in the case and deemed that a fine would not be sufficient for Lem, so he sentenced him to spend sixty days in the city jail, but after the appeal was taken he was turned over to the county.

WHETHER you use whiskey as a beverage or not, there are times when pure whiskey would be useful in the home for sickness. When you buy Atlantic Coast Distilling Company's whiskey, you get direct from the distillery, the purest and best whiskey with all its original strength, zing and flavor, that can be produced from any well equipped distillery. You obtain goods that have not passed over the hands of retailers, thus saving their big profits—and further, you obtain at the distillery's price a whiskey which can't be beat at any price—and yet it costs less than many cheaply made liquors for the inferior adulterated stuff. Send us a trial order, enclosing $1.00 in cash, or by money order or personal check, and we will ship you this fine gallon keg of Blue Fire Corn Whiskey—and after using as much as a quart, if you don't think our Whiskey is better than what you have been buying at fancy prices, send the remainder back at our expense and we will refund your money. If we don't satisfy you, we bear all the loss. Now could any other be better? Order at once and remember the out price named above only holds good until the 15th of next month.

WILL HAVE BIG MEETING.

Interesting Revival to Be Started Next Sunday Morning.

The Methodist denomination of this city will start another revival at their house of worship on next Sunday morning, and as they have manifested such a deep interest in the work one of the best evangelists of the State has been secured for this occasion.

Rev. T. M. Christian, who is noted all over the South as the "Georgia evangelist," has been secured, and the congregation propose to hold the meetings for a period of two weeks.

This celebrated evangelist is a most fluent speaker and has a reputation of bringing a large number of souls to Christ all over the South.

Associated with the great divine is one of the best singers that has ever been heard in the city, in the person of D. W. Melam, and this feature of the services will prove most interesting and at the same time will prove a great drawing factor to the congregation.

There is a section of land there which is considered by mill men to be one of the finest bodies of round timber in this part of Florida, and being of extra large size will afford a fine extra fine lumber.

With the capacity of the small mill it is estimated that a sufficient quantity of timber is already owned to operate the mill for a term of about two years.

Catarrh of the Stomach a Prevalent Disease Difficult to Relieve.

A PROMPT AND EFFICIENT REMEDY.

Mr. S. W. Jackson, 315 Weaver Block, Greenville, Ohio, says: "While I was superintendent of construction of J. F. Bender and Bros. Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, I became entirely unfit for business with catarrh of the stomach."

"A friend called my attention to a remedy for this condition. I began to improve at once. I was soon able to return to my former profession."

"It would require many pages to describe the condition I was in and the relief I have obtained."

Here is another case. Officer George Y. Stout, 724 North Broadway, Baltimore, Md., says: "I suffered very much with catarrh of the stomach and nervous indigestion. I lost fifty pounds in four months."

"A friend called my attention to a remedy, which I used, and gradually got well. I have gained half my lost weight back again."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

Mr. Robert J. Gillespie, 693 South Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., secretary of Lather's International Union, was also suffering from catarrh of the stomach a long time. He grew thinner and paler, lost all ambition and appetite. Sick at the stomach, indigestion continually.

A friend also called his attention to a remedy, which brought about a decided improvement. After continuing the use of the remedy for a month, he considers himself permanently relieved.

Now, once more. Mr. Christian Hoffman, Slaton, Pa., says he suffered for many years with catarrh of the stomach. It produced a miserable cough, day and night. He tried doctors and many remedies. At last his attention was called to a remedy, the same remedy that relieved the others which have been referred to above. He claims that he was entirely rid of his stomach difficulty.

Peruna Brought Back Health.

What was the remedy that has wrought this remarkable relief? So far, the remedy has not been mentioned.

If any one doubts the correctness of these statements it is very easy to verify them by writing to the people whose names have been given, enclosing a stamp for reply.

The remedy is within the reach of every one. It is simply the good, old standard reliable remedy known as Peruna.

If the truth were known, the probabilities are that Peruna has relieved as many cases of catarrh of the stomach as any other popular remedy in existence. We have a great many unsolicited testimonials from all parts of the United States, declaring in strong and enthusiastic terms that Peruna has entirely relieved them of catarrh of the stomach, that they were wretched and miserable beyond words, but Peruna has restored them to health, vigor and happiness.

These are the facts. Now, if you have stomach difficulty, it is up to you to take upon them or ignore them, as you please.

Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh.

"The affection may result from errors in diet, or the use of alcohol. The excessive use of tobacco, especially when the juice or the leaves are swallowed, is likely to cause it."

"Highly seasoned or coarse, irritating foods, sometimes induce the disease."

"As chronic gastritis (catarrh of the stomach) is essentially a secondary affection, one of the primary causes is an unhealthy state of the mouth, nose or throat, such as bad teeth or catarrh of the nose (ozena)."

"The patients are usually poorly nourished, pale, sallow, thin, fatigued, easily induced, muscles flabby. Loss of appetite or capricious appetite."

"The tongue is usually coated brownish gray. Cankerous mouth is a common occurrence."

"Pain is not common. When present it is usually dull, and is aggravated by food, especially when this is of an irritating character."

"Vomiting may occur in the morning. Also after meals. Sickiness to the stomach frequent and persistent."

"Food produces dull headache, and a feeling of general nervous distress. Constipation usually quite marked."

These symptoms, given by Gould and Pyle, coincide exactly with the frequent descriptions Dr. Hartman is receiving from patients all over the United States.

If you have any of these symptoms get a bottle of Peruna. Take a dose before each meal. See if your stomach does not immediately feel better, your appetite improve, your digestion at once resume business.

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.
